

Brett Hawke

...at a glance

Career Highlights

Head Coach of Auburn University's Swimming and Diving Teams
Two-time Olympian
Coach of former Auburn swimmer and 2008 Beijing Olympic Gold-Medalist, Cesar Cielo
2009 World Championships Asst. Coach (Brazil)
2008 Olympic Coach (Brazil)
2009 SEC and NCAA Co-Head Coach of the Year
Five NCAA Team Championships (two as a swimmer, three as a coach)
Nine-time NCAA Champion
17-time NCAA All-American

Personal Quotes

"You can talk it up but it is what you do on the day that counts."

Vital Statistics

Born: June 2, 1975
Hometown: Sydney, Australia
Resides: Auburn, Alabama
Education: Auburn University

getting to know... Brett Hawke

Biography

After a standout swimming career at Auburn which saw him nine individual NCAA Championships and two team titles, Brett Hawke joined the international stage and competed in the 2000 and 2004 Olympic Games.

After his competitive career came to an end, he joined the staff at Auburn as an assistant coach and helped lead them to two more NCAA Championships. In 2009, he was elevated to head coach after Richard Quick passed away from an inoperable brain tumor. That season, the Tigers won their eighth NCAA Championship and Hawke & Quick shared the honor as the 2009 NCAA Coaches of the Year.

Hawke helped coach the Brazilian Olympic Team at the 2008 Olympic Games, which saw Cesar Cielo set a world record in the 50 Freestyle and take over the title as the World's Fastest Swimmer.

As a swimmer, he was a five-time Australian champion and a former Australian record holder in the 50m freestyle.